MINSISSIPPI. A Wheeling boy named Peter Ripley writes from Columbus, Miss., as follows in regard to the election in that part of the State: "We had a quiet election at this place yesterday -- in fact very quiet-as no one but Democrats voted in this county. The Democrats played the Republicans nice trick; they bought up the man that had the Republican tickets and he disappeaced the night before the election and the party hadn't the sense to have others printed except in one precinct in this county. So the Democrats had it all their own way.

Two of Them.

The two gentlemen who voted for Peter Cooper in this county called on us last evening to correct a mistake that appeared in one of the city papers to the effect that the venerable Peter only received one vote in Ohio county on the 7th inst. They wish it understood that two votes were cast for the Greenback candidate, (one at the Court House and the other in Union district) and they are of the opinion that those two votes will prove to be the forerunners of many nore, or, in other words, seed sown in in good ground, that will bear fruit a hundred fold before a long time.

liusiness and Financial Matters, Our foreign dispatches this morning indicate some anxiety in regard to the political situation in this country, and a consequent decline in American securi-ties. We do not however, look upon this feeling as indicative of any serious scare among foreign holders of our bonds. The present situation is not so well understood over there as on this side the water, and, in addition, we must remember that recently foreign capitalists have had a perfect heart scald in the way of a decline in Russian and Tarkish securities. They are therefore more nervous than they otherwise would be. The large capitalists of Europe are too intelligent to fall into a panie on the supposition that either revolution or anarchy is to grow out of our present dilemma.

The Louisiann Returning Board. A special dispatch from New Orleans in yesterday's Cincinnati Commercial gives the following account of the constitution of the Board to which, under the rules and regulations of the American Republie, the Presidential election is referred :

lic, the Presidential election is referred:
"It consists of J. Madison Wells, Surveyor of Port; Thomas Anderson, candidate for State Senator; two negroes, Cascanane and Komer, and Mr. Aryoyo resigned. According to constitutional provisions the first two are barred from rerving, one being a United States official and the other neandidate. The Board is elected by the Senate and has power to fill any vacancy that may occur during the interval. This leaves the selection of the members of the Board to the two negrees, Wells and Anderson, who are both out of the city."

The laws of Louisiana are very strict

The laws of Louisiana are very strict as to the conduct of elections. have been so many frauds in the State, that there is at least a great display of making all things scenre. There is, to begin with, a registration system, and registration lists. A certificate of registration is given each voter. When the vote is recorded the certificate is stamped, and the name of the voter checked on the registration list and recorded in the poll book When the election is over, the ballot-boxes are made secure and forwarded to the Commissioners. Three copies of the poil book and tally-shee are made. One is retained-one forwarded to the Governor, and one to the Commissioner or Canvassers. It will be seen that the precautions taken against fraud

There are also the most elaborate

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Difficulty of Hoaring Any News in the Nouth of a Heliable Charac-ter.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10-9 P. M. Senator Patterson has arrived here from South Carolina. He came chiefly for the purpose of ascertaining the re-sults of the National election, as it had been utterly impossible to learn the truth at Charleston. Until he arrived at Peters-burg, he had supposed, from the private and Democratic and press reports, that Tilden had carried Wisconsin, Illinois, and Democratic and press reports, that there has been influidation. Now, we understand the Presidential election to turn upon this sort of testimony touching the five parishes—East and West Felicians, East Baton Rouge, Morehouse and Ouschitz—parishes that gave (Francisco) and all the Pacific Coast States, but he claim made by the Democrats here, that the Commercial state of the West Felicians, East Baton Rouge, Morehouse and Ouschitz—parishes that gave (Francisco) and all the Pacific Coast States, but he claim and the claim and that the Democratic stellar give Titleden of Hampton had carried that State. He did not know until to-day have the Democrats claim give Titleden of Hampton had carried that State. He did not know until to-day have the Democrats claim for many the claim of the commercial that the claim and the and all the Pacific Coast States, but he had heard nowhere in South Carolina the cation of the returns agrees with the number and character of the votes in the ballot-boxes. The County Commissioners then transmit the certificate, with their comments, to the State Board of Canvassers, retaining themselves the ballot-boxes. The returns of the County Canvassers is generally considered official, but it is not final until after the examination and approval by the State Board of Canvassers. The latter have the right to supervise the entire count, and to send for the ballot-boxes, if necessary. The County Canvassers will canvass the county returns on next-Tuesday. Until that time the exact official result will not be known. Any announced offi-Until that time the exact official result will not be known. Any announced official returns before that time must be made up from private memoranda, which are unofficial. The State Board of Canvassers will not commence their canvass before one week from next Monday. Until that time the formal official announcement of the result in South Carolina will not be made.

This Was What Settled It.

From the Washington Star.] From the Washington Star.]

A friend of Democratic leanings sends us the following to show that Tilden will be the next President. As this may possibly be an off-year in the sequence, or "dispensation," it may perhaps be safe not to bet very wildly on the recurrence
of the event this time:

A remarkable fact cancerning the Presidents of Burited States?

I. Washington—had no children.

2. Adams had.

3. Jefferson had.

I. Madison—had no children.

2. Mouroe had.

2. Monroe had.
3. Adams had. o filleren.
1. Jackson—had no children.
2. Van Buren had.
3. Marrison had.

2. Taylor had.
3. Flerre had.

Consequently, following the above remarkable dispensation of events, he will be the next President.
